About Belgrade

Belgrade is the capital and largest city of Serbia. It is located at the confluence of the Sava and Danube Rivers and at the crossroads of the Pannonian Plain and the Balkan Peninsula. The population of the Belgrade metropolitan area is about 1,680,000 according to the 2022 census and it is the third most populous city on the Danube River. Belgrade is one of the oldest continuously inhabited cities in Europe and the world. It's history was very turbulent from prehistoric times: the Vinča culture, evolved within the Belgrade area in the 6th millennium BC, through the ancient times and the Romans, then through Slavs and Byzantine Empire in the Middle Ages, becoming the capital of Serbia for the first time under Stefan Lazarević in XV century, followed by frequently passages from Ottoman to Habsburg rule, until it finally became again the capital of Serbia in 1841, and staying the capital city of all former country names: Kingdom of Serbia, Yugoslavia, Republic of Serbia.

Belgrade has special administrative status within Serbia. It is the seat of the central government, administrative bodies, and government ministries, as well as home of almost all of the largest Serbian companies, media, scientific and educational institutions. Also in the recent years it became also the city well known for its tourism and nightlife. But most important are the people that live in this city, which are always friendly and hospitable to all visitors and making guests want to return to Belgrade. WELCOME!

How to get from Belgrade Airport to city center

Although right now it is a bit chaotic, because of the reconstruction works at Airport there is a public transportation from Airport to city center by Minibus A1 (about every 20 min) and Bus 72 (about every 30 min). But the best transport option, especially at late night, is taxi (about 3000RSD (25 EUR)). Our suggestion is that you let us know the time of your flight arrival and we can organize and arrange transport for you.

The Conference Venue locations

20 July

Rectorate building of the University of Belgrade

Address: Studentski trg 1, Belgrade, <https://goo.gl/maps/o8njU4ufKQq2prUJA>

Ceremonial Hall of the Rectorate of the University of Belgrade

The origin of the University of Belgrade can be tracked down to the beginning of the 19th century, when Dositej Obradović founded the College in 1808. Thirty years later, the Lyceum was founded in Kragujevac, and on September 24, 1863, the Law on the Advanced School Founding was adopted. It was by power of this Law that the Lyceum was transformed into the The Higher School. This institution was situated in the edifice that one of the wealthiest Serbs of the time, Captain Miša Anastasijević, had bequeathed to his fatherland. To this day, this is considered one of the most beautiful buildings in Belgrade.

The Higher School was well recognized not only in Serbia, but also throughout Europe. Under the auspices of the University of Belgrade, the universities in Novi Sad, Niš, Priština, Kragujevac and what is today Podgorica, Montenegro were founded. The University of Belgrade is prepared to maintain and enhance its position as the leading institution of higher education in the region by adapting to the challenges of modern times on one hand, and preserving what's worth in its tradition on the other. Today University of Belgrade consists of 31 Faculties, 11 Institutes and other centers. Research and study of various aspects of hydrology is accomplished at Faculty of Geography, Faculty of Civil Engineering, Faculty of Forestry and Faculty of Mining and Geology.

The official currency of Serbia is the Dinar (RSD). Credit cards are accepted in most hotels and shops, and nearly all ATMs accept international bank cards. You can exchange money at any exchange office, as the currency is state controlled. The weather in Serbia in July is very hot with maximum temperatures between 30° and 32°, so light clothes and fresh water is recommended. In the city center you have a large selection of fine and casual dining restaurants and they all serve great food. Also, there are fast food restaurants. Many shops are in the city center, and for a more demanding shopping we recommend Rajičeva shopping center, which is within the very city center.

If you find some free time, we recommend you to visit some of Belgrade's landmarks, that are all in walking distance from very city center, such as: Kalemegdan Fortress, Walk around Stari grad and Dorćol neighborhoods with all representative architecture, visit National Museum, Ethnographical Museum and unique in the world Nikola Tesla Museum.
